THE VOICE OF HARLOW

INSIDE

George Swanson is addicted to pornography. When police checked his computer they found hundreds of indecent images of babies and young children, some of which were of the most sickening nature. Even the judge said it was impossible not to feel a sense of revulsion. Yet on Friday he walked free from court after being given an eight-month suspended prison sentence.

AN electrical engineer who became addicted to pornography and who had hundreds of indecent images of babies and children on his computer has been spared jail.

Instead, George Swanson (56) of Longbanks, Harlow, was given an eight-month prison sentence suspended for two years.

Swanson pleaded guilty to making 19 indecent images and possessing hundreds more. He was placed under supervision for two years and put on the Sex Offenders Register for 10 years.

In addition he was told he would have to attend an internet sex offenders treatment programme and ordered to pay £850 in legal costs.

Judge David Turner QC, passing sentence at Chelmsford Crown Court on Friday, said it was a shameful day for Swanson, telling him: "It is impossible when one looks at the material not to feel a sense of revulsion; 800 images or so of babies to teenagers you've accumulated on your computer."

"The hope is you would have reflected these were somebody's son or daughter. People making these photos position the children and show them what to do. They gravely abused these children."

The court heard that Swanson, a university graduate with a career in engineering in electrical work, had lived a "perfectly decent life" but over the past two years or so he had developed a dreadful addiction to pornography.

Juliet Donovan, prosecuting, told the court that Swanson's computer contained 545 images of the lowest level of severity, 62 of level two, 88 of level three, 195 of level four and five of level five.

Simon Spence, in mitigation, said Swanson had become addicted to pornography and the child porn images were found among adult scenes.

But the judge said: "Those who spend money feed this trade. If there was no money in it people wouldn't do it. Those who use credit cards to buy it make this a serious offence."

He said Swanson had been gripped by a morbid curiosity but accepted he had not distributed any of the material to other people. "It was for personal use and as an act of mercy I can suspend any sentence," he added.

A spokeswoman for the NSPCC said: "We must not forget the fact that behind many abusive images are real children. Receiving or downloading abusive images of children perpetuates its production and reinforces the cycle of sexual exploitation."

Soldier is hurt in battle exercise

A SOLDIER from Harlow was badly injured when he was struck by a flare during a training exercise.

Adam Loader (21), of Moorfields, Harlow, was taken to hospital following the incident during a simulated battle on Friday.

The 1st Battalion Royal Anglian Regiment infantry man was said to have entered a mock house on Salisbury Plain during the exercise.

As he stormed the building, it is understood a flare struck his left hand and caused massive damage.

He was taken to hospital where medics inserted metal bars and are due to carry out skin grafts in an attempt to rebuild his hand.

The incident is now the subject of an Army investigation to ascertain the turn of events which led to Private Loader's injury.

The news has saddened his grandfather Victor (82) who said there is no telling at this stage what the lasting damage

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor
sassooni@hertssexnews.co.uk

will be.

Mr Loader, of Old Orchard, Harlow, said: "He was due to be deployed to Iraq or Afghanistan soon and he seemed to be doing so well in the Army."

"He seems to be in good spirits but he is going to be climbing the walls as he convalesces. It is just such a shame this has happened; the Army is his life and he is the sort of person who likes to be up and doing things."

"It is fortunate it didn't hit him in the face because if it had it could have killed him."

An MoD spokesman would confirm only that a soldier was injured during a training exercise and is currently receiving treatment at Salisbury District Hospital.

"The incident is currently the subject of an investigation by the Army's Land Accident Investigation Team. As such, it would be inappropriate to speculate on any circumstances surrounding the incident," he added.

Bank backs off in row over fees

A HOMEOWNER charged £1,400 in service fees by a mortgage lender despite her house purchase falling through celebrated this week after being fully reimbursed.

Halifax originally told Meghana Godambe, of The Downs, Harlow, she was not entitled to a refund of the hefty service charge, even though her purchase had failed through no fault of her own.

She was shocked to learn the fee was non-refundable, meaning that even though the sale had not gone through due to a breakdown elsewhere in the property chain, she was still liable for the charge.

With nowhere else to turn, she enlisted the help of Harlow MP Bill Rammell, who branded the charges "unfair" and urged the bank to reimburse his constituent.

Following talks with him, the bank - which has just been bailed out by the Government's £37bn rescue package for struggling financial institutions - agreed to refund Ms Godambe the full amount.

"I am so pleased and relieved that Bill intervened on my behalf," said Ms Godambe. "He managed to get a fantastic result for me."

Mr Rammell added: "These are unfair charges, levied against an individual whose property acquisition failed due to no fault of her own."

Gun threat alert

ARMED police swooped on a flat in Harlow after receiving reports of a resident being threatened with a gun.

Officers were called to Parsonage Leys last Tuesday by a 24-year-old man who claimed he had been assaulted by a gun-wielding attacker.

The victim sustained injuries to his head and eye and was taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital for treatment.

A 28-year-old unemployed man from Harlow was arrested at the scene but police did not find a weapon. He was later released on conditional bail until November 21.

Three other men also arrested at the flat were all released without being charged.

We can't move without power

By SOPHIE WARNER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A HARLOW company has been left in the dark as to why it has been waiting six months for energy giant EDF to supply electricity to its new premises.

Luminescence, currently based in Bush Fair, is planning to move into a new building in Southern Way but it has yet to have its power supply connected.

The company has been told it could take another 16 weeks to get the connection, despite applying for the necessary arrangements back in May.

John Cooper, one of the firm's directors, said the delay was holding up building work and could force the company to postpone the move.

"They are holding everyone up," he said. "The workmen have had to put down their tools as they literally cannot do anything."

"It is outrageous that they are able to run their company like this. If I did the same I would be sacked. I just want them to pull their finger out and do something."

"When I rang up to complain to OFGEM (Office of Gas and Electricity Markets), I was told they no longer deal with utility complaints. It is absolutely disgusting; who else am I supposed to complain to?"

He added: "You can't really put a figure on how much this is costing us. It's more like we are not expanding as we should be which is not good."

An EDF spokeswoman said: "Mr Cooper first contacted us about the installation of a new supply to the premises in Southern Way in April. We have been liaising with him to establish what work is needed and a considerable amount of planning work for the project has already been completed."

She added the company was now awaiting a quote to be accepted before the necessary work can be undertaken.

Family fun day for switch-on of Xmas lights

A FUN-packed day of entertainment is being planned to celebrate the switching on of Harlow's Christmas lights.

Entertainers, musicians, reindeer, an authentic fairground organ, candy floss, roasting chestnuts, Punch & Judy and a wide variety of stalls and displays will fill the town centre from Water Gardens through to the Harvey Centre, Broad Walk, Market Square and West Square on November 16.

In what is being billed as one of the biggest lighting-up ceremonies in the town's recent history, the Broad Walk lights and Christmas tree will be switched on shortly after sunset following a parade of children, animals and adults which will wind its way through the town centre to the Market Square at 4.15pm.

Town centre development manager Richard Denney said: "We have planned lots of excitement and surprises, with panto stars and local Harlow heroes joining Harlow Council chairman Tony Hall on the main stage for the countdown."

This year's Christmas lights display are being billed as better than ever, thanks to contributions from Harlow Council, the Town Centre Partnership, Harlow Renaissance, GlaxoSmithKline, Kier Harlow, Pitney Bowes and others.

There will also be the launch of the town's first ever shoppers' guide, 10,000 copies of which will be ready for distribution on the day.

Sparks fly over earlier date for town fireworks

A POLITICAL row has exploded over the decision to move Harlow's bonfire night celebrations from November 5.

As the Star reported a few weeks ago, Harlow Council announced this year's free display in the Town Park will be held on Sunday, November 2, breaking years of tradition.

The reason given for moving the display from Wednesday to Sunday was that it would reduce inconvenience to Fifth Avenue residents, who would have part of their road closed for the event, and for people who use the route to commute to and from work.

But at Thursday's full council meeting, Labour councillor Mark Wilkinson questioned Tory councillor Eddie Johnson's initial claim that most people would prefer the event to be held earlier and said several people had told him they were unhappy with the decision.

Environment and community committee chairman Mr Johnson said that at the time of the announcement, the council anticipated most people would welcome the decision to switch the dates.

He also said it was the previous Labour/Liberal Democrat administration which agreed to the change in December last year and added that an online poll conducted by the Star showed most people to be happy with the arrangement.

Speaking after the meeting, Mr Wilkinson denied the decision to move the event was taken by the previous administration: "Officers recommended we move the display from the 5th to the 2nd, but that recommendation was not agreed. I should imagine what has happened is that after we lost control in May, the Conservatives agreed to the recommendation."

'Theft' charge defendant not guilty says jury

A MAN found near car showrooms in Harlow in the early hours of the morning carrying a bag containing wire cutters and gloves has been cleared by a Chelmsford Crown Court jury of going equipped for theft.

Ben Murphy (23), of Occasio House, Harlow, told the court that he was there with the bag because he had walked from Bishop's Stortford after missing his train.

However, it had been alleged by the prosecution that he could have caught a train which ran 38 minutes later than the one he claimed to have missed.

When the bag he was carrying was searched the cutters and gloves were found along with another bag, a fluorescent jacket and a hard hat.

Prosecuting, Christopher Paxton told the court a plain clothes police officer in an unmarked car was in Edinburgh Way, Harlow, at 2.20 am on June 7 had spotted Mr Murphy in an area where there were car showrooms and industrial premises.

When his bag searched Mr Murphy told police the items in it were work tools and he had been working in Bishop's Stortford.

He was cleared of all charges on Friday.

£10m paid to compensate PAH patients

COMPENSATION totalling almost £10m has been awarded to patients treated at Princess Alexandra Hospital during the past four years, it has emerged.

The sum includes £3.8m paid out for alleged clinical errors in the past year alone.

The figure came to light in a report compiled by the NHS Litigation Authority, which handles negligence claims and all legal cases on behalf of NHS bodies in England.

Princess Alexandra Hospital NHS Trust – like all other NHS bodies in the country – pays a premium to the NHSLA which then pays out the awards. The payouts do not come from the trust itself.

However, the report shows that in 2003/4, the NHSLA handed out almost £600,000 in damages, £100,000 in defence costs and £300,000 in claimant costs for alleged errors at PAH.

The following year, it paid out more than £1m in fees and compensation, but the figure jumped to a massive £3,800,733 in 2005/06 and then again to

By LOUISE SASSOON, News Editor
sassooni@hertsexnews.co.uk

£5,477,141 in 2007/08, £3,788,681 of which was payment for damages.

The year the payout was made does not necessarily relate to the year of the claim and the trust compares well with others in the region at a time when figures show a national rise in claims against health bodies.

But the news has angered the Taxpayers' Alliance, which said the figure is alarming.

Spokesman Mark Wallace said: "This is a staggering amount of money to pay out and suggests a worrying amount of mistakes are being made."

"If the trust did a better job of taking care of patients, they would also save taxpayers' money at the same time."

However, a PAH spokesman defended the amount and said regular assessments are undertaken to test the rigor of the hospital's organisational policies and procedures to ensure it is providing safe and high quality services, adding:

"The Trust takes every opportunity to learn from individual cases and these lessons influence the way we work."

Landmark for a landscaper

LANDSCAPE architect Dame Sylvia Crowe has been honoured for her role in designing Harlow's green spaces.

Harlow Civic Society erected a plaque at Spurriers cafe in the Town Park in recognition of the woman who was the town's landscape architect from 1947-73. It was unveiled by Joe Swift from BBC show Gardeners' World at a ceremony on Friday.

Civic society chairman Stan Newens said the new town represented some of the best examples of 20th century urban development and Dame Sylvia, who died in 1997, had played a vital part in shaping the landscape.

MP's foreign job shows Labour's given up here

SIR, The appointment of Harlow MP Bill Rammell to the Foreign Office suggests that Labour have finally given up on Harlow (Star, October 9).

If Labour believed there was a hope of holding this seat, they would have kept him at home looking after his wafer-thin majority rather than giving him an overseas portfolio, including the Middle East and the USA, which will keep his attention abroad until the next election.

However, any worries this appointment may give Bill's Harlow constituents are as nothing compared to the concerns which may justifiably be felt abroad. For Harlow's MP is no stranger to the Foreign Office. During his last tour of duty there, it was Bill who was responsible for blocking the attempts of thousands of Chagossian islanders to return to their rightful home in Diego Garcia. The Government's approach to this matter was described by two judges at a high court appeal as illegal, repugnant and irrational.

And now reports in the national media suggest that when last in the Foreign Office, Bill Rammell had been personally informed by the Red Cross of the torture of Iraqi prisoners by American forces in Abu Ghraib jail. However, it is reported that he did nothing and apparently failed to pass on the information about this international scandal to any other member of the Government. Two months later, Tony Blair said that neither he nor his ministers were aware of what was going on at Abu Ghraib. Why hadn't Bill told him? Given his previous record at the Foreign Office, Bill Rammell's appointment must be viewed with considerable alarm - and not a little outrage.

Gym didn't fix it for me

SIR, For many years I have been a regular and full member of the Sportcentre gym, paying £42 a month by a direct debit. So I was more than a bit upset recently to see a large promotional advertisement across the front of the Star advertising full membership for £38 a month.

I went to see the manager of the gym to air my grievance and discuss the matter but came away more upset than when I went in! I was basically told 'that's business' and it was made very clear that nothing would be done to change the situation.

When I pointed out that, in actual fact, long-standing members like myself should be shown more respect for their loyalty and patronage and be allowed the same terms as new members, I was told that I was the only person that had complained. So I came away with feeling that there's nothing I can do about it, because of being dealt with in a like it or lump it attitude!

I do wonder what Alan Sugar would make of this so-called business plan, where loyal members (and their money) are ignored in favour of a recruitment drive.

I really do feel that common sense and values, other than those regarding money, are sorely missed these days. So as I am a person of principal I have decided to cancel my full membership, which is a shame because I have been a member for many, many years.

Lights signal congestion

SIR, We have had several months of clear roads on Second Avenue. The absence of traffic lights has kept the traffic flowing without congestion. Now I see that the traffic lights are being installed again.

Traffic will increase with the new sports centre opening and, with the new traffic lights, congestion will be worse than it was before the traffic lights were removed. Once again, people coming into town in the morning will have to crawl at snail's pace from the A414 to the town centre, causing CO<sub>2</sub> emissions to increase.

Len King
Church Leys, Harlow

Why favour big chains?

SIR, What is this 'scores on the doors' rubbish that Harlow Council has concocted to waste our council tax on (Star, October 9)? I was under the impression there was already a Health & Safety Executive which visited local eateries, checking for violations.

And then I saw their results: surprise, surprise, the multi-national restaurants getting five stars and the little independents getting a kicking (Harlow Council favouring the big boys? Never!).

To take up one example, I have eaten in The Sandwich Bar - which didn't do so well - pretty much every week for nearly 30 years and its quality of food, service and cleanliness is spot on, plus it's the only place left in Harlow where you can still get a proper cup of tea. The fact that this establishment has been there for 50 odd years tells you all you need to know.

By comparison, I've had very bad experiences in two of the best-scoring eateries in the survey (not naming names) and I won't be returning to either of them.

I'd like to see exactly what criteria was used to test these restaurants, and exactly why they're bothering with this in the first place.

Bypass can stand alone

SIR, I welcome the Labour MP's support regarding the extra bypass on the M11 (Letters, October 9), particularly his increased activity on the matter since the website www.fedupwithharlowtraffic.com was established and over a thousand Harlow residents have now supported my campaign.

But the fact remains that, despite his recent meeting with former Transport Minister Rosie Winterton (since sacked by Gordon Brown), there have primarily been warm words rather than substantial guarantees of financial support for the proposed bypass. And that is after over 10 years of a Labour Government.

One final point: to suggest that the A414/M11 bypass will only happen if the Harlow North development occurs is patently wrong. Hundreds of bypasses up and down the country have been built without necessarily having to build thousands of houses first.

Moreover, all the relevant authorities say that the extra bypass is in no way dependent on the extra housing developments over our countryside - which, anyway, are at risk given the credit crunch and slump in housebuilding across the country as a whole.

Town deserves support

SIR, I was reading your front page story 'Town Park show-offs' (Star, October 9) and felt I really must commend the council spokesman for his justification of using £3,502.98 of local taxpayers money to 'raise the profile' of Harlow and its businesses.

I would also like to congratulate council chairman Tony Hall for raising a vast amount of money for the worthwhile charity Child Victims Of Crime, which is very commendable.

This golfing event was played by local Tory councillors and representatives from local companies including GlaxoSmithKline, Harlow Town Football Club, Professional Carpets, BAA Stansted, Graham Ellis Associates, and Kier Harlow.

Maybe in 2009 councillor Hall will follow his spokesman's lead and hold this event in Harlow and not Nazeing, as I understand we have a very nice golf course within the town called Canons Brook.

I understand councillor Hall in his acceptance speech of office was committed to supporting local events and companies. Maybe he should practice what he and his council preach!

Three ways to fix world

SIR, Having listened to the experts on the current financial crisis facing the country and the world at large, permit me to make a few suggestions which, if followed, should see the UK putting in place firm foundations for avoiding future crisis.

Putting large sums of money (billions of pounds) into the finance houses will certainly not buy the 'confidence' our Government is craving. The money will end up in an unquenchable black hole and leave the country still licking her wounds from the crisis.

What should be done, with most of the fund being made available by the Government, is to put some into the productive sector, like the housing industry. We need a lot of houses built for the younger generation urgently. The funds will circulate once it is put in this sector of the economy. Plumbers, electricians, architects, surveyors, councils and a host of artisans and manufacturers will benefit and, also, the whole economy! The acute shortage we are experiencing in the housing sector will be relieved to a great degree, benefiting most of the people in the United Kingdom (and Harlow). Shall we try this?

Secondly, we are currently engaged in at least two rather unnecessary wars, in Iraq and Afghanistan. These wars are costing the taxpayer billions of pounds, and for what? I am yet to be fully convinced we are fighting just wars. Just think of the billions we shall save by stopping these wars immediately! Again, there are economic and financial advantages in this suggestion.

The third suggestion will not involve any expenditure at all. The main reason for these foolish wars is the injustice meted out by the stronger nations on the 'weaker' ones and the desire by some wealthier nations to dominate the world. We need a change in attitude, policy (international) and a more open mind and heart! This will stop us making a lot of damaging decisions in future. Such a change will allow the whole world to cooperate in a harmonious economic conditions, the results of which will benefit all and sundry.

Again, shall we try these simple suggestions?

Paramedics vow 'zero tolerance'

AMBULANCE crews are warning of a zero tolerance approach to assaults on staff following two incidents.

A 15-year-old girl appeared at Harlow Youth Court last Friday after an emergency medical technician was spat at and slapped with a shoe when he attended a job near The Dashes playing field on September 28.

The youth, who was said to be drunk at the time of the assault, was sentenced to pay court costs and compensation and was also given a five-month referral order.

The victim of the attack, an emergency medical technician who wishes to remain unnamed, warned such incidents are becoming commonplace.

"At times you have to be on guard because although there are good areas of the town, there are the bad," he said. "You have a lot of drunks and drug addicts so you have to be on the ball. I approach anything with caution whether I'm on my own or have a crew mate."

"We've got to get people to realise that we are here to help,

By CHRIS MOSS

moss@hertssexnews.co.uk

and if we are assaulted, we will take it further."

Last week a crew member was inside a vehicle on a call near to Harlow Station when somebody slammed the door of the ambulance into her back. That case is currently being pursued.

A spokeswoman said: "The ambulance service is here to respond to people in need and our crews should not be made to feel vulnerable or intimidated."

"Thankfully, serious assaults on crews in Harlow are very rare but to make any job more difficult for our frontline staff is unacceptable. We always follow up any such incidents which are reported and with the support of the police and Crown Prosecution Service this can often lead to court appearances."

Meanwhile, crews have had to contend with security issues at the station after they spotted men last Monday night checking out vehicles in the car park.

A team leader at the station warned: "CCTV operates in the area and so anyone who wants to break into vehicles should think twice before targeting us."

ANTI-social behaviour with fireworks is being targeted by a multi-agency operation to crack down on troublemakers in the run-up to Halloween and Bonfire Night.

The Safer Harlow Partnership wants to dampen the spirits of yobs who make residents lives a misery by encouraging homeowners to report rowdy and intimidating behaviour to police and Harlow Council officials.

The organisation, comprising representatives from the emergency services and local authority, sent out its message when it kicked off Operation Bang Out of Order in Water Gardens on Saturday.

Now you will pay to get rid of rats

RESIDENTS struggling financially in the current credit crunch are to be hit with rising charges for pest control and cremations as Harlow Council attempts to claw back some of its budgetary shortfall.

From November 1 it will cost £46 to call out a pest control officer to tackle rat infestations – a service which has been provided free until now.

And in a move to counter spiralling energy costs, bereaved families will have to pay an extra £73 to have their loved ones cremated as the charge rockets by more than 20 per cent from £357 to £430.

In a report to the council's policy and resources committee last Tuesday, the new pest control charge was recommended as a means to save the authority £27,500 by the end of the year.

Contractor Kier Harlow has reported a massive rise of 175 per cent in the number of bookings to tackle rat complaints during the past year – an increase largely attributed to residents confusing the disease-carrying rodents with mice.

The report suggested some callers were deliberately confusing

By CHRIS MOSS
moss@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

the creatures because call-outs for mice infestation incurred a fee while rat-related problems did not. Tony Durcan (Labour) branded the plans "outrageous" at last Tuesday's meeting, claiming the ruling Conservative group seemed happy to "switch off the phone and let the rat population grow".

But council leader Andrew Johnson blamed the previous administration for failing to budget for an increase in call-outs.

The row continued at Thursday's full council meeting, where both sets of charges were eventually approved despite heavy opposition.

After the Tories were again blasted for wanting to introduce rat eradication fees amid claims the move could create a health and safety problem for those who could not afford it, Mr Johnson defended the plan, saying vulnerable people would pay an £11 concessionary fee.

He also hit back at Labour claims that increasing crematorium charges would be profiteering from grief, claiming it was the previous administration which had failed to properly estimate energy costs and left the council with a huge energy budget deficit of about £300,000.

Store's sweet result

SUPERMARKET staff bagged something a bit different this week – a mini bus for a Harlow youth football team!

Workers at Asda, in Water Gardens, won the Transit van after they entered a Mars competition to sell as many chocolate bars as they could during a four-week period.

Stores throughout the country took part in the game but the Harlow branch came out tops after staff sold a massive 35,900 bars in packs of four or five and scooped the bus as first prize, which they then donated to Langley Colts Youth FC.

Store Manager Chris Good said: "We wish to thank all of our customers for helping us win this by buying loads and loads of packets."

Sex charge Tory back in court

A TORY councillor suspended from his post after he was charged with sexually abusing a 13-year-old girl has appeared at Chelmsford Crown Court.

David Kirtton (55), of Longbanks, Harlow, was remanded in custody at Tuesday's hearing until December 8. He is charged with three sexual offences allegedly committed against the teenager since February 1 this year.

Balloon race raises £1,500 for Shopmobility

A COLOURFUL cloud of balloons floated into the sky after being released as part of a fundraising drive for Harlow's Shopmobility scheme.

Sue Bright organised the event to raise cash for the service, in Little Walk, as a thank-you for the help and support staff gave to her when she ruptured her Achilles tendon playing golf two years ago.

She borrowed a Shopmobility scooter, which enabled her to carry on living an independent life, making it easy for her to continue her regular shopping trips and get about.

She even persuaded her employer, Barclays Bank in Old Harlow, to chip in £750 as part of its Committed To Communities initiative. The sponsored balloon race raised £1,504.

A FOOTBALL club which plays its home games in Harlow has been saved from financial ruin thanks to the support of two businesses.

The future of Langley Rangers, currently in the premier division of the Bishop's Stortford, Stansted & District League, was under threat as debts piled up.

However, two local firms stepped in to save the day by pledging a total of £600 which will enable the team to continue.

Langley Rangers co-founder Gary O'Donnell contacted Harlow Tory prospective Parliamentary candidate Robert Halfon to see if there was any way he could help the team.

Mr Halfon in turn approached the two companies, which wish to remain anonymous, and their financial aid has secured the club's short-term future.

Mr O'Donnell and Paul Harner founded the club in 2006. The team plays on a pitch close to the Church Langley housing estate.

"This could not have come along at a better time," said Mr O'Donnell. "We were really struggling financially and last season we were in quite a bit of debt. We managed to clear that with an end-of-season fundraising event but we desperately needed additional funds for a new kit and training equipment."

"Robert was really enthusiastic and wanted to help raise the profile of the team. When he told me he had managed to secure sponsorship for us, it was a huge relief as we were considering folding the team or asking the players to help. Thankfully, we didn't have to."

Mr Halfon said he was delighted to help, adding: "We need to do all we can to support clubs and activities like this in our community. I look forward to Langley Rangers winning many games to come."

Hole lot of cash

STAFF from 52 Wickes stores came together to raise funds when they teed off in a charity golf day.

Organised by the Harlow branch of the DIY store, the event was held at Blakes golf course in North Weald and raised more than £4,000 for Leukemia Research.

More than 70 players took part and in the evening there was a charity auction.

Organiser Jamie Robinson, from the Wickes store in Howard Way, said: "It was a fantastic success. To get the support of 72 golfers and arrange the day in only five weeks has been a real challenge but with the support from sponsors and suppliers we were grateful to have raised such a fantastic amount."

Broad support for changes to bin collections

HOUSEHOLDERS are said to be broadly supportive of changes to bin collections, it has been claimed.

Councillor Eddie Johnson, chairman of Harlow Council's environment and community committee, made the statement in a written answer at Thursday's full council meeting.

Labour councillor Maggie Hulcoop had asked Mr Johnson for the results from two public meetings held to discuss on waste and recycling collections and gauge public reaction to the council's plan to introduce fortnightly pick-ups.

Mr Johnson said the intention was to retain weekly collections of malodorous waste with alternate weekly collections of residual waste and recyclables. "That being said," he added, "the public were broadly supportive of the idea, especially the weekly collection of smelly food waste avoiding this heavy waste source going to landfill."

Gun accused is held in custody

A MOTOR exporter accused of possessing a handgun with intent to cause fear of violence was refused bail by a judge at Chelmsford Crown Court on Monday.

Francis Monk (56) of Malkin Drive, Harlow, is due to return to court on January 5 for a plea and case management hearing.

£88,000 to refurb town bus station

By LOUISE SASSOON, News Editor
sassoonly@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A MASSIVE cash injection to spruce up Harlow's town centre bus station and bring it up to scratch has been announced.

Council chiefs have agreed to pump an estimated £88,000 into the Terminus Street arrival and departure point to improve facilities and make it more user-friendly for passengers.

Some of the money will be spent on a new bus shelter to replace the existing one which is damaged and seating replaced in the waiting rooms.

And in response to public demand, the public information kiosk will be moved to the waiting room for ease of access.

Changes are also being made to departure stands following consultation with bus operators.

Councillor Eddie Johnson, chairman of the council's environment and community committee, said the changes have come about due to public demand and he was confident travellers would approve the changes.

"I am pleased we are able to carry out these improvements to make life better for bus passengers. The standard of the facilities is not as high as we would like so I'm sure they will be welcomed by local residents."

Harlow Pensioners Action Association chairman Les Coben said: "If they are going to spend £88,000 I sincerely hope that they do something which is going to please the users and that they have listened to people who use it."

● Information on which stands buses will depart from is available from the bus ticket office.

Schools safety drive launched

A CAMPAIGN to persuade drivers to take extra care when approaching school crossings has been launched by Essex County Council.

Road safety officers joined school patrol wardens and police outside Jermonds Junior School in Pyenest Road, Harlow, for the start of the Stop Means Stop initiative.

They handed out stickers to motorists to remind them of the perils of driving carelessly in the vicinity of schools.

Posters will also be put up in petrol stations across the county, while leaflets, coasters and stickers bearing the safety message will continue to be distributed outside schools throughout this month.

Tory praises charity for its work to help jobless

A CHARITY helping unemployed people with special needs gain work has been hailed as a shining example which should be replicated across the country.

James Clappison, the Conservative's spokesman for employment and welfare, was speaking during a visit to Employ-Ability at the Latton Bush Centre while on a trip to Harlow on Thursday.

He described the charity, as a beacon, adding: "It is a wonderful organisation which does some incredible work. It would be wonderful if their example was replicated across the country."

Tory Parliamentary hopeful Robert Halfon said: "Employ-Ability is such a remarkable organisation that does so much to get people who might otherwise not work into meaningful employment"

Mr Clappison also visited Harlow Jobcentre where he met staff to discuss the job situation and vacancy rates in Harlow. He said: "I was very interested to hear the local picture in Harlow; it is essential to bring the right sort of help to people who are looking for a job in the present economic climate."

When enemy POWs tilled Harlow's land

FROM a distance of more than 60 years, it's hard to picture a Britain entrenched in the Second World War with fighter planes duelling in the skies and troops fending off German advances.

Many people may not be aware that the area we now call Harlow was once a place where captured soldiers were sent to work the land.

German and Italian troops caught during the conflict had the opportunity to break from the incarceration of prison camps to feel some sense of normality working on the farms which dotted the area.

The work was totally voluntary and the lifestyle quite enjoyable in comparison to the life British POWs endured in German hands. Sawbridgeworth resident and correspondent Barbara Wood-Kaczmar told Nostalgia the main POW camp was set up in 1941 in Mill Lane, Hatfield Heath, along with two offshoots.

"There were a lot of Italians at the main camp in Hatfield Heath, which was built for about 750 people," she said. "The camp was non-Nazi, so it was classed low-risk and there was a War Agricultural Committee which arranged for Land Girls to pick up prisoners and take them to

By

allotted farms and then take them back again.

"There were also two satellite camps, one in Matching Tye and one in Bishop's Stortford, which were on a smaller scale and the prisoners at the Matching Tye camp were sent to work on land which is now Harlow."

"What I have found is that while our prisoners were living in horrendous conditions in Germany, we were obeying Red Cross regulations regarding the treatment of POWs."

She added: "Harlow and the surrounding area now have a lot of people who have connections to the POW camp because after the war a lot of them didn't go back to their country because they began lives over here."

"I believe there to also be a lot of former Land Girls in the area who had dealings with the POW camp and can remember what it was like."

Barbara, of Wimborne Close, Sawbridgeworth, is seeking memories of the POW camp from former prisoners or those whose family who had connections with the site for a book about the history of the Hatfield Heath camp. Write to her at 1 Wimborne Close, Sawbridgeworth, Hertfordshire CM21 0EA or email Barbarawodkaczmar@yahoo.co.uk.

Entertaining royalty

FOLLOWING on from a story we ran in Nostalgia in January last year about the Queen's 1956 visit to the town, Shelagh Turner, nee Smith, sent in this photograph taken when the Queen and Duke of Edinburgh arrived in Harlow to open two roads named after them – Elizabeth Way and Edinburgh Way. As part of the visit, HRH inspected two homes to see for herself how the New Town measured up. Here she is pictured coming out of the Smith family's house – called The Willows – with Prince Phillip following close behind.

ESCAPE FROM GRENADA

A HARLOW teenager is back in her home town, just a week after being air-lifted from Grenada in a dramatic rescue. Jackie McEwan (19) left Grenada with nothing except her British passport. She and her brother survived the fierce crossfire during the American invasion.

JOBLESS TOTAL DOWN 154

THERE were 154 fewer people jobless in Harlow last month. The figures went down to 4,666. Of this number 292 were school leavers aged 18 or over.

THIEVES WRECK CAR

CALLOUS thieves took a disabled man's car from outside his home, removed the engine, smashed the roof and abandoned it at Stansted. Now Edward Evans (56), of Church End, Harlow, is housebound with no means of transport.

COUNCIL'S STAND ON WAR

NEW civil defence regulations which the Government wants to impose on district councils throughout Britain are likely to be opposed by Harlow Council. It may also try to force the Government to provide information about its war plans.

Charity effort has a fancy dress code

LITTLE PARNDON: Pupils and staff took a fanciful step to fundraising when they ditched their uniforms to don costumes for the day.

Teacher Natasha Marcetic organised the event to raise funds for CCAA, a children's charity supporting families with a child suffering arthritis.

And it was a big hit with those at the school who chose to donate money to the cause for the pleasure of putting on an unusual get-up.

Australians' visit forges friendships

STEWARDS: Pupils said g'day to a party of Australian visitors when a year's planning came to fruition with the return of a former teacher.

Ex-PE head Chris McLeod flew from the other side of the world to drop by the Parnall Road school with three colleagues and 17 boys from his new school of St Mary's, in Toowoomba.

The visiting students, all about 17, were lodged with host families for their two-week stay, which saw them take part in football matches against local teams as well as going to Ipswich and Arsenal to watch matches, taking in the sights of London and visiting the theatre.

The visitors had never been to England before and Mr McLeod said: "The boys have been blown away by the warmth of the welcome they have received and the trouble that staff and parents of Stewards have gone to on our behalf."

"Some of these boys have made friends for life and no doubt we will see a return trip by Stewards pupils to Australia in the foreseeable future. I have the warmest of memories of Stewards from my year working there four years ago and it was a real joy and privilege to return."

● PUPILS were on top form when they showed off their skills for hundreds of visitors at the Steward's annual open day, featuring demonstrations of chemistry, biology and physics plus performing arts students dancing their way through a showcase of their talents.

Blessings for retirements

ST MARK'S: The Tripton Road school has said goodbye to two long-serving teachers.

David Summerville joined St Mark's in 1973 to teach geography before going on to become head of department and James Parsons came to the school in 1981 as head of PE.

Between them they have served 62 years at St Mark's and a spokeswoman said their dedication to students over the generations had been remarkable.

In addition to teaching, Mr Summerville was heavily involved in raising funds and awareness for the parish of Regina Coeli, in South Africa, and helping the people of the parish, which he visited twice.

To mark their retirements, both were presented with an Apostolic Blessing from Pope Benedict.

OAP fails in bid to overturn ban on keeping cats

A PENSIONER from Harlow has failed to get her conviction for causing unnecessary suffering to her cats overturned. Olga Sewell (71), of Ladyshot, appealed earlier this month after she was found guilty by Epping magistrates in April of causing suffering to 13 cats. She was subsequently banned for life from keeping the animals and ordered to pay £2,000 in costs.

Hearing the evidence at the appeal, Chelmsford Crown Court was told how one of the cats had collapsed and others were suffering from flu.

RSPCA Essex acting chief inspector Rosie Russon said: "These cats suffered, living in appalling conditions so we are pleased that the appeal has upheld the decision of the magistrates."

Negligence case against hospital

A WOMAN who claims she is a victim of medical negligence has launched a legal battle for compensation against Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital. Wendy Green, of Haymeads Lane, Bishop's Stortford, is seeking damages of up to £50,000. A writ issued at London's High Court alleges she suffered undisclosed injuries after being given negligent care and treatment.

Salesman Danny is not just all talk

By SOPHIE WARNER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

FROM double glazing to secondhand cars, Harlow salesman Danny Pite reckons he can shift anything – and he's out to prove it to the nation.

Mr Pite (40) has 12 years of experience behind him and is risking his wheeler-dealer reputation in a bid to be crowned the winner of ITV's Natural Born Sellers.

The show opened with eight ruthless contestants who replace the existing workforce in real businesses with the aim of smashing sales targets, earning maximum commission and doing all in their power to push up the value of their kitty.

The businesses vary week to week from door-to-door double glazing specialists to luxury limousine hire and selling three-piece suits, with the worst performer being eliminated at the end of the programme by the top seller.

Mr Pite, of Staple Tye, is still in the show – now in its third week – and with the elimination of his biggest rival, Scott English, last week, he fancies his chances to walk away victorious with the total commission earned throughout the series.

However, in an interview with the Star, he revealed he nearly did not make it onto the show at all.

"My wife filled out the application form and sent it off for me," he said. "We thought it would be a laugh. I got through to the audition stage but I didn't turn up, then ITV rung me up and said they really wanted me to do it. So I went to the audition and ended up getting through to the final eight."

The father-of-three said his motivation for doing the show and going through the process of being whittled down from more than 5,000 people is "for my family and to prove that I am a proper selling man."

And his tips for other wannabe sales gurus?: "I think the best tips that I can offer are to be confident while selling and make friends with the customers. I come across as a cheeky cockney and that gets people on my side!"

● NATURAL Born Sellers is on ITV1 at 9pm on Thursdays.

Former printer is cleared of assault charge

A FORMER printer who denied assaulting a customer he claimed owed him money has been cleared of all charges.

The jury took just 30 minutes to find Martin Greenslade (44), who used to run Chadwell Press Labels at Greenway Business Estate, Harlow, and now lives in Billericay, not guilty of assaulting Jordan Baker causing him actual bodily harm. Discharging him, Judge Christopher Ball QC said: "This whole exercise has no doubt been a terrible shock to you. You've got to try and be careful when dealing with people like Mr Baker. Keep yourself in check."

The jury was told the incident at the centre of the case took place at Café Ora, in Greenway Business Estate, after Mr Greenslade, now an HGV driver, met Mr Baker (21) on November 16.

A scuffle broke out and Mr Greenslade admitted kicking Mr Baker twice in the lower part of his back but claimed it was during the course of the struggle after Mr Butler lunged at him.

He had denied assaulting Mr Baker, of Harlow, who suffered minor head and soft tissue injuries.

When describing what happened, Mr Greenslade had told the jury: "I thought it was a scuffle. I didn't think there would be any repercussions."

Mr Greenslade was awarded £200 travelling costs.

How to help a hedgehog this winter

SPARE a thought for the humble hedgehog. These loveable spikey rodents need our help to see them through the cold winter.

They say hedgehogs are finding it harder to gather food and build up the fat reserves they desperately need for hibernation during which they sleep through the worst of the winter weather.

The minimum weight required for hedgehogs to survive is about 450g and the BHPS is afraid that many will die if they can't put on sufficient weight in time for cold spell.

It is urging people to leave out meat-based cat or dog food for hungry hedgehogs and asking them to keep an eye out for the creatures shuffling around in their gardens as it could mean they are poorly or desperate for food.

The British Hedgehog Preservation Society is becoming increasingly concerned about the number surviving our bitter winter months as more and more are spotted wandering around during the daytime.

AUTUMN 2008

IT'S that time of year when there are more trends flying around than falling leaves.

Designers and stores have revealed their autumn/winter looks for the home and there's a mass of styles to pick from.

But it can be pretty confusing deciding what's right for your home, not to mention that little problem of not busting the budget.

Most of us can't - and don't want - to completely revamp our interiors. You might instead just want to pick out a fashionable colour for a wall or a fabric - plums and berries are all the rage - or splurge on a new piece of furniture or simply scatter some fab new cushions around.

We've asked a couple of experts to give us their trend tips.

To make it even easier, they've also each nominated a top choice affordable item that you can use to give your chosen room a lift for the coming season...

DISCOVER THE SECRET OF SUPERB FURNITURE AT DISCOUNT PRICES

How to furnish your home with high street brands at half the price.

You're Furnished Outlet Stores is one of the top UK retailers of quality furniture at discount prices. Selling exactly the same furniture as well-known high street stores, but at half the cost, You're Furnished has long been a favourite of interior designers and discerning homeowners.

How do they do it? Both outlets are located in modest warehouses, so keeping overheads to the absolute minimum.

And selling high volumes also helps keep prices low, but without compromising on quality. Each store has a huge range of sofas in leather and fabric, dining and bedroom furniture in a variety of wood finishes and displays of freestanding kitchens. And when you've made your choice most items are available for immediate delivery.

You're Furnished showrooms can be found at:

Pick a room to receive a dose of splendid autumn style

:: FEEL THE STYLE

Texture's a big story this season, making it easy to create a sensual, snug nest. Spoil yourself with faux fur, leather, velvet and felt.

The latter's stepped out of the handicraft class and features on everything from cushions to lampshades.

"Heavily-textured items - particularly cushions, rugs and even wallpaper - are growing in popularity as people seek both warmth and a striking look for their home," says Fionnuala Johnston, B&Q's design manager. She points out that there's no need to splash the cash to get a great effect.

"For high style on a budget, invest in a pot of paint, a new lampshade - or chandelier - and a piece of funky wall art."

Johnston says you can completely change the look of a room for just £25 - and B&Q has devised a series of inspiring makeovers, costing between £25-£150.

ON-TREND BUY: Go for the Beverley shade, a deep red lightshade embellished with felt roses, priced £39.98.

Always knowingly underselling.

You're Furnished sells exactly the same fine furniture that a well-known high street store sells - but we do it for HALF the price. How? Because we're a modest warehouse operation tucked away in a Stansted side-street, with low overheads, and we sell a lot - to those in the know. Join them. Come to You're Furnished and enjoy astonishingly low prices on all kinds of breathtakingly high-quality furniture.

:: LET THERE BE LUXE

There's no need to break the bank to get a home that looks amazing. It's all about good quality fabrics and great effects with paint and wallpaper.

"Glamour and luxury are what it's all about this season, but that can be interpreted to suit your taste and your purse," says TV presenter and designer Linda Barker.

"That could mean transforming furniture with a coat of paint, splashing out on some beautiful beaded cushions, and adding eye-catching lights." Her online company Really Linda Barker has loads of affordable goodies. Check out her luxury bead and sequin cushion (£19.95), stylish sunburst clock (£27.50), and mirrored glass candle holder set (£19.50).

ON-TREND BUY: Invest in a standard lamp, such as Habitat's Tri Base lamp in black powder-coated steel. It costs £99 plus shade. Or check out charity shops and antique sales for old standard lamps that you can update with a new shade.

AUTUMN 2008

Ask the DIY EXPERT . . .

Q: I want to paint my wooden bath panel the same colour as the bathroom walls: do I just choose a colour that comes in both emulsion and satinwood or gloss?

A: That could work but the colour, even though it's supposed to be the same, might actually be different.

A safer option is to choose one of the multi-surface emulsions that can also be used on wood and metal.

Make sure you follow the manufacturer's instructions and prepare your surfaces properly before use.

Q: What's the easiest way to paint stair banisters?

A: The problem with painting banisters with a brush is that it's fiddly and the paint tends to bunch, creating a poor finish. You can end up endlessly sanding what you've painted to get rid of the bunching and never getting anywhere.

Using a spray gun is a good alternative, though you'll need to mask off the surrounding area and take all the necessary safety precautions.

You may also have to dilute the paint to stop it clogging up the nozzle, but you will have the job done in no time at all.

Q: All my chisels are blunt - can I sharpen them or do I need to buy a new set?

A: Simply use a sharpening stone, available from DIY and hardware stores.

It has two sides, one rougher than the other, and enables you to sharpen all kinds of things.

Wet the stone first and start sharpening on the coarse side, then finish off on the finer one.

Q: My dining room has purple walls, which I don't like any more, but I'm concerned that painting over them will require lots and lots of coats. Should I use a one-coat emulsion?

A: Try a special base coat emulsion, which is designed to cover up things like hairline cracks, filler and strong colours in one application.

Despite the name, one-coat emulsions often require more than one coat, especially over dark colours.

Q: I've removed all the old tiles on my fireplace hearth and I want to re-tile, but the floor's really uneven because adhesive remains in some places and not in others.

Should I try to scrape it all off?

A: The easiest thing to do is level off the surface with more tile adhesive, although you may have to build this up in thin layers so it dries properly.

Buy a large plastic or metal-tile adhesive spreader to make the job quicker and easier, then you can lay your new-look hearth!

Aladdin's Cave of furniture - all at factory outlet prices

ALTHOUGH The Furniture Showrooms may not be a high-profile store, based on a busy high street, once you walk through the door, you'll think it is!

There are more than 500 pieces of furniture on display in many different styles, from modern to traditional, with dining chairs to TV stands!

The Furniture Showrooms is a factory outlet, so is able to keep prices low and sell superb quality furniture at affordable prices. As you are dealing direct, there is a colour-matching service and made-to-measure service on many items.

The store currently has to clear as much of the display stock as possible in order to make way for fresh, new ranges, so hurry and visit now if you want to grab a bargain.

As a family-run business established 27 years ago, all staff are knowledgeable and experienced with every aspect of the furniture.

You will receive excellent service from the moment you walk through the door and everyone prides themselves on the company's reputation for quality goods and first class customer service.

Looking rather small from the outside, you will be amazed by the amount on display and will always find a warm welcome at this 'Aladdin's Cave' of Cheshunt!

Pattern, not plains again

Want to turn your rooms wild with colour, pattern and decoration?

Thanks to the revival of wallpaper that's easy. After all, it's hard to find a more versatile decorating tool that allows you to have fun with every shade under the sun, as well as tones, textures and depths.

"The days of plain white walls are numbered now wallpaper's returned," says wallpaper expert Bernadette Fallon with conviction.

She's celebrating its return in How To Decorate With Wallpaper, celebrating the versatile covering.

Bernadette and co-author Lauren Floodgate researched traditional historic designs when writing the book, but also discovered the growing number of 'young papers' that, thanks to cutting-edge techniques and innovative designers, are bouncing wallpapers into the 21st century.

"There's no limit to what you can achieve with wallpaper," Bernadette enthuses. "It's an ideal way to create a period feel or contemporary look, cosy up a large room or make small spaces feel bigger."

"You can also add architectural interest to plain walls, create a rich enticing backdrop and highlight attractive features."

Even so, after years of using paint in neutral colours it can be scary striking out into papers. Nervous souls could experiment with one 'feature wall' in paper, or consider textured and patterned papers in user-friendly shades like cream, biscuit, coffee, chocolate or black. Don't neglect the 'faux' effects from stone, leather to metallics.

Not only that, if you don't live in a perfect pad (who does?) wallpaper could become your new best friend.

Paving firm celebrates anniversary

STANSTED Paving has a long-established record manufacturing and selling quality patio paving to the trade and public and to celebrate its first anniversary in its new premises in Little Hadham, customers are being offered a 10 per cent discount on production of this article until the end of December 2008.

All manufacturing is done on site, to order, which means that unlike many competitors who sell only in set quantities, Stansted Paving can supply as few or as many items as you want in any style, size or colour, so no more buying a whole pallet for those small jobs or the one or two extras you find you need!

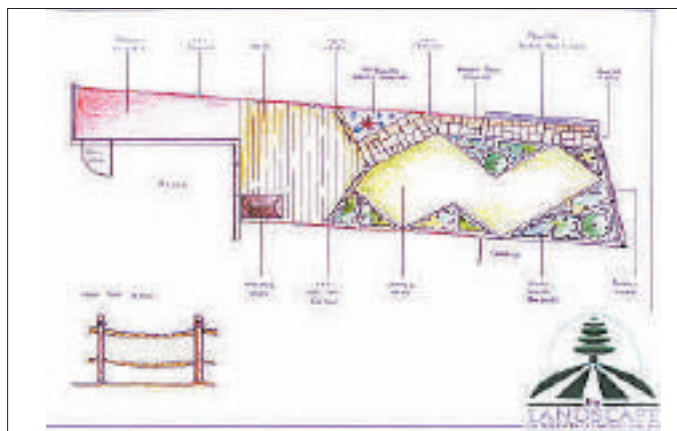

The business has also just expanded its range to include an Old York Octagon, various edgings, bird bath and sundial, so why not visit and see the extensive display area, where you can view the products laid out to provide a comparison between colours, styles and appearance.

Stansted Paving will also be happy to discuss your particular needs and assist in any way to plan and make a success of your project.

Bank's base rate cut will boost tracker mortgages

HOMEOWNERS are hoping for lower mortgage bills after the Bank of England cut the base rate to 4.5 per cent.

The decision to slash interest rates by 0.5 per cent along with central banks around the world will reduce monthly payments for many mortgage customers using variable and base rate tracker products. Now is an ideal time for homeowners and first-time buyers to explore the savings they could make by taking out a bank rate tracker mortgage.

One of the UK's largest mortgage brokers, Countrywide Mortgage Services, has revealed two new three-year tracker mortgages for new customers and those wishing to remortgage. The exclusive products are available through branches of Bairstow Eves for a limited period only. Jon Taylor, said: "Our latest range of exclusive mortgage schemes are designed to give homeowners a helping hand and boost their affordability in the current climate. Lower interest rates combined with reduced house prices makes this an ideal time to get on to the property ladder. You will not find these products elsewhere on the high street."

Bairstow Eves has a team of professional mortgage consultants on hand to offer advice on the hundreds of mortgage products currently available. Unlike some mortgage brokers, Countrywide Mortgage Services does not charge a fee for its advice and recommendation service.

To find out more about Countrywide Mortgage Services and the options available to you locally, visit www.mortgagescountrywide.co.uk or contact your local Bairstow Eves branch and ask the mortgage consultant about Countrywide's current mortgage offers.

The news coincides with the launch of Help to Buy packs which offer guidance on the moving process including information on how to boost your borrowing potential through a variety of schemes that are geared towards helping more buyers and sellers move up the property ladder.

Contact Jon Taylor on 07748 760228 to arrange an appointment with one of their qualified Mortgage Consultants and see how they could help you.

Bank's base rate cut will boost tracker mortgages

HOMEOWNERS are hoping for lower mortgage bills after the Bank of England cut the base rate to 4.5 per cent.

The decision to slash interest rates by 0.5 per cent along with central banks around the world will reduce monthly payments for many mortgage customers using variable and base rate tracker products. Now is an ideal time for homeowners and first-time buyers to explore the savings they could make by taking out a bank rate tracker mortgage.

One of the UK's largest mortgage brokers, Countrywide Mortgage Services, has revealed two new three-year tracker mortgages for new customers and those wishing to remortgage. The exclusive products are available through branches of Bairstow Eves for a limited period only.

Jon Taylor, said: "Our latest range of exclusive mortgage schemes are designed to give homeowners a helping hand and boost their affordability in the current climate. Lower interest rates combined with reduced house prices makes this an ideal time to get on to the property ladder. You will not find these products elsewhere on the high street." Bairstow Eves has a team of professional mortgage consultants on hand to offer advice on the hundreds of mortgage products currently available. Unlike some mortgage brokers, Countrywide Mortgage Services does not charge a fee for its advice and recommendation service.

To find out more about Countrywide Mortgage Services and the options available to you locally, visit www.mortgagescountrywide.co.uk or contact your local Bairstow Eves branch and ask the mortgage consultant about Countrywide's current mortgage offers.

The news coincides with the launch of Help to Buy packs which offer guidance on the moving process including information on how to boost your borrowing potential through a variety of schemes that are geared towards helping more buyers and sellers move up the property ladder.

Contact Jon Taylor on 07748 760228 to arrange an appointment with one of their qualified Mortgage Consultants and see how they could help you.

Classic 'magic spray' now in handy pen style

WD-40 oil now comes in a new Magic Pen.

Because it's a pen applicator, it's a quick and easy way to use WD-40 around the home and garden and because it's small, you can keep it in your tool box, kitchen drawer or glove compartment without it taking up much space.

The pen can be used to do things like lubricating DIY and garden tools, sorting squeaky hinges, loosening rusted padlocks and bolts, and freeing up window catches.

It will even remove scuffs and marks and can be used to lift off stickers and add a protective shine to chrome appliances.

The WD-40 Magic Pen costs around £1 from DIY shops and superstores and good hardware shops.

All home improvement needs under one roof

FOUNDED in 1935, Dobsons is the very essence of a family business, with the third and fourth generations running the company today.

With more than 70 years' worth of satisfied customers and a wealth of experience, Dobsons has developed an enviable reputation for quality and service.

Dobsons caters for all your home improvement needs under one roof. From bathrooms to conservatories, bedrooms to windows, there is everything you need to make your house a beautiful home inside and out.

When Dobsons added bathrooms to its product range in 2004, the company had little idea of just how quickly they would take off. In fact, in just four years, bathrooms have overtaken the other, long-established products, to become Dobsons' second biggest-selling product.

Dobsons attributes this success to its winning combination of high quality brands and unique service. From initial survey and design, through to installation, carried out by the company's own installers, Dobsons undertakes the complete project. Every installation is project-managed to ensure a perfect, seamless finish.

With an average installation starting from £10,000, Dobsons caters for the middle to upper end of the market. As testament to the quality on offer, Dobsons was selected as a Villeroy & Boch partner last year.

Villeroy & Boch have been established in ceramics since 1748 and is one of the leading names in bathrooms, offering everything you could need for a harmoniously co-ordinated bathroom, from sanitary ware to luxury furniture, showers and baths.

Earlier this year, Dobsons transformed a large area of the showroom into a stunning Villeroy & Boch studio. Dobsons believes this, alongside the wide selection of other top bathroom brands on display, will confirm its status as the number one bathroom showroom in the local area.

Dobsons is also a proud member of the K.B.S.A, a consumer organisation dedicated to promoting the highest professional standards for the supply and installation of kitchen, bedrooms and bathrooms.

To view Dobsons' Villeroy & Boch studio, along with all other products, visit Dobsons' large Cheshunt showroom, with its own customer car park. Open Monday to Saturday, 9am-5pm.

Turn your snaps into art!

Above, enlarged photos on canvas by Snappy Snaps, from around £40 each. Contact: www.snappysnaps.co.uk.

Left, photo of black and white photographs displayed in a range of different frames all within a dado rail surround, from 101 Finishing Touches (BBC Books £4.99), by Julie Savill.

HOLIDAY photos are a lasting memory of happy times with family and friends.

But don't waste them by keeping them in albums, boxes or on the computer - or bore friends with endless sessions looking at your latest shots.

Instead, turn them into art for your rooms. Displayed in clever ways, they'll not only add personality to your home, but also just looking at them will give you a warm glow long after that sun tan has faded.

Julie Savill, author of 101 Finishing Touches, believes it's easy to enhance photos.

She suggests using a glass-fronted box frame to show off a special holiday shot, and including a small souvenir from the place where the picture was taken.

"For instance, pop in a few shells or pebbles collected on the beach, or maybe a couple of travel tickets or a tiny memento," she says.

"Make sure the occasion it was taken is never forgotten by writing a small label noting the time, place and people in the photo and stick it underneath the image."

She recommends grouped images, framed or otherwise, to give them more impact, and advises selecting around 15 to 20 photos for a wall display.

"Ideally, use only black and white photos to give the arrangement unity - colour photos can simply be copied on a black-and-white photocopier. Fast photo shops offer this service.

"Arrange the photos on the floor before hanging to help you decide the order in which you want to display them," she adds.

To give it extra impact, frame the collection using lengths of dado rail.

Wallpaper, especially with a busy pattern, isn't an ideal background for photographs but 'Frames' - a white wallpaper printed with black hand-drawn picture frames in various sizes - is designed to show off favourite photos.

Simply stick images inside the framed spaces and change them whenever you feel like it - this paper could be a good choice for children's rooms and it's so easy you could even get the kids to help!

Frames wallpaper is £12.99 a roll from Graham & Brown (0800 3288452/www.grahambrown.com).

Alternatively, create wallpaper from one of your favourite photographs or a montage of a collection of snaps. Bespoke wallpaper using photographs starts from £45 a roll from online company 55Max.com.

Why display someone else's art on your wall when you can display your own? Instead of hanging paintings, get holiday photos blown up and mounted on canvas to bring instant interest and personality to a room.

AUTUMN 2008

TO instantly update your walls without wallpapering or painting, take a look at the Fern Living Collection of striking stickers at www.modetwentyone.co.uk. Available in a range of colours and featuring designs such as birds, trees, fingerprints and flowers, the stickers are ideal if you like bold style statements - and easy DIY jobs. They can be used on walls, ceilings, furniture, windows and mirrors. When you want a change, you simply peel them off and replace them with another design for a whole new look. The stickers are priced from £30 to £55.

NEW blinds are a quick and easy way to give a room a new look, and they're usually straightforward to put up even if you've got limited DIY experience. If you love colour, blinds manufacturer Eclectics has just the thing. Bright colour is a key trend for their winter 2008 collection and the dramatic Wingnut Chili blinds, designed by Clarissa Hulse, are nothing if not bold. Prices start from £78 for a made-to-measure roller blind and £220 for a made-to-measure Roman blind. To find a local stockist, call 01843 608780 or log on to www.eclectics.co.uk.

Get prepared to strip off!

THERE are various methods for stripping wallpaper but by far the easiest is a wallpaper steam stripper, which you can hire or buy inexpensively.

If you've got a lot of wallpaper to strip, it certainly makes sense to buy one. These strippers are like big kettles and it's easy to get scalded by the steam or drips of boiling water, so use with care and try to keep the hose straight or else it may twist off, leaving steam streaming dangerously from the main unit.

To operate a steamer, simply hold the steam plate to the wall and wait for the steam to loosen the wallpaper - keep testing to see if the paper is loose because you can damage the plaster underneath if you hold the plate on for too long.

For speed, hold the plate to the wall with one hand and scrape another area with the other hand.

Some wallpapers have two layers and you'll find it easier to steam and tear off the first layer before steaming off the second.

For thick wallpapers, such as woodchip, scoring the paper first helps the steam penetrate, though don't do this if you're not repapering afterwards because you will probably leave score lines in the plaster.

The best wallpaper stripping knives have long metal handles and replaceable blades - you change them by loosening and then retightening two or three screws.

The problem is that these blades are really sharp when new and they can damage the plaster underneath if the wallpaper's thin or if you're not careful when scraping.

If you're worried about this, traditional wallpaper scrapers with non-replaceable, triangular-shaped blades are less sharp.

Clear up your wallpaper scrapings as you go along because once dry, they set hard and can stick like glue to floors and other surfaces and then have to be soaked off.

AUTUMN 2008

Snuggle up in bed and keep off the winter chills . . .

OUR natural inclination at this time of year is to hibernate and escape the chill winds outside - and the current gloomy financial situation is surely helping to heighten that feeling.

So there's never been a better time to snuggle into bed - after all it's cheap and it could be the perfect place to stash your cash!

But to really benefit your wellbeing, your bedroom should be a sanctuary and a place where you feel soothed, rested and relaxed.

Few people are more expert at creating bedrooms than Chrissie Rucker, founder of designer bedding and accessories supplier, The White Company.

She's prepared a 'bedroom blueprint', so that before the clocks change this weekend, heralding the start of winter's long dark nights, you can transform your space.

"As a mum, juggling four wonderfully energetic children and a business I love passionately, getting enough quality sleep is crucial." 39-year-old Chrissie says.

"And for great sleep, a comfortable bed and a lovely bedroom are absolutely essential. "It's well known that sleeping is vital for our whole wellbeing. It restores the body, refreshes the mind, and may even help boost the immune system. In my view, the perfect bedroom should be a cocoon in winter and a cool, airy sanctuary in summer."

Chrissie, who was inspired to start her company specialising in bed linen in 1993 after failing to find beautiful white bed linen at an affordable price, has her own pet bed hates.

She confesses with a grimace that "bobbly, poly-cotton sheets and lumpy pillows are guaranteed to make me miserable". She also buys the best quality mattress she can afford and is disciplined about changing it after 10 years.

"I discovered that if your bed is blissfully comfortable, it can give you an extra hour of quality sleep every night," she says.

"Chrissie shares the following tips so you can create a bedroom so smart and seductive that it could star in a glossy magazine.

:: BEDROOM DECOR

The bedroom is a personal, private space and one where many people spend most of their time when they're home.

So you should choose a colour scheme that appeals to you and makes you feel relaxed.

Be inspired by schemes used in hotel bedrooms that you've stayed in and felt instantly comfortable and chilled. Also, look at the clothes in your wardrobe.

As a guide, soft or neutral colours are suitably soothing, but contrasting those with a deeper shade on perhaps the bedhead wall can be stunning.

Deep plums and rich pinks are fashionable this season, although men may prefer darker chocolate or khaki backdrops.

:: BEST-DRESSED BEDS

"Your bed's the focus of your bedroom, so it should be comfortable and inviting, but also work with the surroundings," Chrissie says.

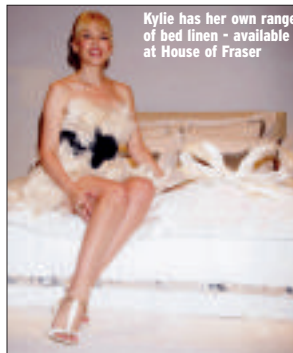

Interiors stylists will always look at the whole room before starting to consider how to dress the bed.

"Step back and think about your interior scheme, what colours you could pick out for the bed, and what style of dressing would best suit the space," she advises.

"A winter bed works well with a warm duvet, and layers of cosy blankets."

For an autumn bed, she advises a nine-tog duvet, and two to three blankets, with cotton, linen or the warmer cotton flannel sheets. Top it all off with a warm, thick bedspread.

Kylie has her own range of bed linen - available at House of Fraser

Your stars with Patrick Arundell

to guide you through the week ahead

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
You can feel less restless this week, or else the excess nervous energy you do have you can apply to practical tasks. However, if you're hoping to cultivate a relationship, business or personal, a good degree of patience is going to be necessary. Someone may not answer your emails or texts as quickly as you'd like, but there can be good reasons for this. Call now for your in-depth forecast.

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
Greater harmony can ensue in all types of relationships - if you can focus on the things you have in common rather than those things that set you apart. This will be useful, for little niggles and irritations can loom large, so keeping a sense of perspective will stop things from getting personal. On the upside, you can become friends with a Scorpio. Call me now for your love scope in full.

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
Your ruler, Mercury, begins a three-week backward journey, suggesting that socially there can be last minute changes of plan. Fortunately, the Sun is set to give you greater energy and enthusiasm. Use this surge of additional power to up your activities. Professionally, charm will also take you far. Even an awkward workmate can be won over. Call me now for more news and astral advice.

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
If last week was a bit of a helter-skelter, now you have the chance to settle things down. Home, family and emotional considerations are still to the fore, but now you can be determined to make progress. The problem is, just as you get this head of steam up, someone can seem uncommunicative and yet you both know you need to talk. Call your prediction line for more.

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
It's ironic Leo, the pace of life accelerates, but just as it does, the very things you rely upon can have a tendency to be unreliable. This can be people, home appliances, technology, or transport. Still, if any weaknesses do exist around these at least they can be revealed. Yet a home improvement or redecoration project can start to shape up nicely. Call for your in-depth forecast.

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
If there are still issues outstanding from last week's dramatic events, someone will need to take the lead to resolve these. You may feel that this can be you. However, someone can feel that you're too involved and therefore too subjective. Might they have a point? A neighbour, friend or close relative can mediate or you can do this for someone else. Call me now for more astral advice.

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
An action-packed week sees Venus leave your sign and move into sultry Scorpio. This can up the temperature in your love life but also see you enjoy some financial luck. With the Sun arriving in your sign, your moves can be more assured, but with Mercury beginning to twist backwards, one important plan could move frustratingly slowly. Call me now for your love scope in full.

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22
Someone could still be having a tantalising influence on your senses. Yet you can be unsure whether this will just be a fling or something more. If it's exciting you may be happy to live in the moment. If you're involved, but unsettled, the picture is contradictory. You may be loath to leave an important union but part of you may long for something more. Call me now for your love scope.

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
If you and someone you live with have been banging heads, might it be you both want the same things but just express these needs differently? Perhaps it's time to take a step back and be more logical. Sagittarius. View all this in a more dispassionate way and the atmosphere will soon improve. Solo? Your mind can turn to a face from your past. Call for your in-depth forecast.

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
The nervous tension you've experienced is probably more to do with balancing your own needs as much as any external pressures. We can all look to others for solutions but you should look to yourself. You are more capable than you give yourself credit for and somehow or another, you need to take a leap of faith and go for what you really want. Call me now for more astral advice.

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
Travel plans are poised and potentially challenging. Where you have control over your circumstances things can be fine. However, an industrial dispute affecting the transport system or your luggage being mislaid may see things go awry. All you can do is to make sure that you reduce the chances of glitches by meticulous planning. Call now for more news and advice.

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
On the face of it, a test in a relationship can calm down. But someone close can still be moody and you will need all your powers of diplomacy, just at a point where you would rather tell it how it is. Business matters can also get bogged down in a mix-up. Double-check important details and documentation before finalising any plans. Call your special prediction line for more advice.

Two actors, two plays and one great night

MORRIS wants to cry. Since Benny's funeral, all he has been able to do is laugh. Cassandra grits her teeth, pours another gin and steels herself to welcome the boorish guests to yet another of her husband's parties, one which even he will not bother to attend.

Geoff Saunders' one-person plays are natural companion pieces in this touching and well-observed double bill.

Benny's Funeral, the stronger of the two, explores with great sensitivity our often irrational reaction to loss. Benny was the partner of Morris for 15 years, until a heart attack carried him off.

In the distraction of the moment, Morris even found himself flirting with the ambulance driver. No less distracting was the funeral parlour, with

BENNY'S FUNERAL & MANNY'S PARTY
Fourth Wall Productions, The Playhouse Studio

Manny's face in the coffin distorted by ill-placed dentures.

The play is full of subtle observations. Morris wished there had been a video of the funeral because he remembers so little of it. The blur he experiences comes from the shock of loss and so he is left waiting for the emotional vacuum to end and the tears to come.

Paul Chittleborough was excellent in the role, balancing the humour with pathos and drawing the audience into a private world of loss.

In Manny's Party, Linda Clark gave an acerbic yet sensitive portrayal of Cassandra, suffering the agony and superficiality of her husband's party, a reminder of the emptiness of her own life.

She greets the guests through gritted teeth while confiding in the audience her true feelings. But as the drink takes effect, her inhibitions lift and she recalls how once she was her father's belle of the ball and, more importantly, independent and with ambitions of her own.

This was a touching, humorous and thought-provoking evening presented by two seasoned performers and a writer with a keen insight into the loneliness of ordinary people.

Coward lifts the spirits during a time of crisis

REVIEW

RELATIVE VALUES

Global Theatre Company, The Playhouse Studio

ENTERING the intimate arena of the Playhouse Studio on Friday armed only with my credit card bill, a glass of ale and a frown, it was distinctly heartening to see so many like-minded folk looking for an escape from the daily doldrums of stock market crashes and billion-dollar banking bailouts.

After all, in the current climate of general apocalyptic doom-and-gloomery, what better way to lift one's heavy heart than a trip to the theatre to be entertained by the late, great Noel Coward?

As the lights dimmed and the reassuringly calm (if alarmingly injured) figure of Crestwell the butler (the impressively agile Keith Cummings) hobbled onto the stage with the aid of crutches, the audience breathed a collective sigh of relief before melting into a deliciously witty farce.

When Nigel, Earl of Marshwood (Global newcomer Andy Bowness) announces his engagement to top Hollywood actress Miranda Frayle (Lucy Ashton in brash and beautiful mood), his mother and lady of the house Felicity (Elaine Elliott) is not exactly enamoured with her son's choice of bride.

To make matters worse, it emerges that the countess' trusted servant Moxie, played with great assurance by Rose Floyd, is in fact Miss Frayle's long-suffering elder sister, who knows only too well what her sultry sibling is really like.

After a face-saving attempt to pass the dour and dowdy Moxie off as a wealthy friend of the family goes hilariously wrong, a few home truths are aired between the estranged sisters, leaving Nigel's proposed marriage teetering on the brink.

And with the unexpected arrival of one of Miranda's old flames – smooth-talking Hollywood superstar Don Lucas (the louché Lee Ockso) – and some dastardly scheming by the countess and her partner-in-crime Peter (Mark Simons), the ill-fated wedding is completely doomed.

This was yet another triumphant performance from the rather splendid bunch at Global. After two hours of timely escapism executed with knowing wit and impeccable comic timing, the delighted faces of the audience said it all.

Pirates plunder Playhouse

A NEW family show sails into Harlow on Wednesday, promising to give those who don't know their peg legs from their parrots a potted history of some of the most fearsome characters to stalk the seven seas.

Formerly of the good ship Blue Peter, brazen buccaneers Daniel Clarkson and Jefferson Turner will be bringing their wacky and inimitable storytelling style to The Playhouse in the hilarious history lesson that is Potted Pirates.

In a show lasting for just one hour, the dastardly duo will take to the high seas in search of talking parrots and buried treasure, recounting some of the most famous pirate legends along the way.

Expect to be entertained by tall tales featuring the likes of Long John Silver, Blackbeard and Mary Read, while a full-scale re-enactment of the Spanish Armada featuring 30 actors in full costume promises to be the show's explosive climax.

Tickets for the performances, which start at 3pm and 7pm, are 12 doubloons (that's £12, or £10 concessions) and are available from (01279) 431945.

High school return for Disney's musical youth

HIGH SCHOOL MUSICAL 3: SENIOR YEAR
certificate U, running time 1h 51m

ALREADY breaking box office records in the UK for advance ticket sales, the third instalment of the Disney Channel phenomenon takes a bow on the big screen for the first time.

The senior class of East High School prepares to graduate and go to different colleges around the country.

Troy Bolton (Zac Efron) and best buddy Chad Danforth (Corbin Bleu) are looking forward to playing basketball together, on opposite sides of the country to their respective girlfriends Gabriella Montez (Vanessa Hudgens) and Taylor McKessie (Monique Coleman).

The attention-seeking twins Sharpay (Ashley Tisdale) and Ryan Evans (Lucas Grabeel) hope to achieve the fame and adoration they have always craved.

As the teenagers prepare to say goodbye to one another, they agree to take part in one final musical, inspired by their lives.

As usual, Sharpay tries to steal the limelight, plotting with her brother to woo talented composer Kelsi Nielson (Olesya Rulin), who always writes the best songs for lovebirds Troy and Gabriella.

When ebullient drama teacher Ms Darbus (Alyson Reed) confides that two guests from the world-renowned Juilliard performing arts conservatory will attend the performance to award a scholarship to one of her students, the perky classmates pull out all the stops to ensure a standing ovation.

More gore from killer Jigsaw's slaughterthon

certificate 18, running time 1h 32m

DIABOLICAL killer Jigsaw (Tobin Bell) concludes his blood-thirsty reign of terror – from beyond the grave – in this final instalment of the horror franchise.

Once again the clocks are ticking as more devilish booby traps and gruesome deaths await the meticulous serial killer's hapless victims.

At the end of the fourth film, Detective Hoffman (Costas Mandylor) outwitted FBI profilers Strahm (Scott Patterson) and Perez (Athena Karkanis) to continue Jigsaw's grotesque and ghoulish plan.

When his secret is threatened, Hoffman is forced to go on the offensive targeting all of the loose ends, including Strahm and his mentor's embittered ex-wife Jill (Betsy Russell), who is party to Jigsaw's past and all of his secrets.

As with previous films, nothing is quite what it seems and somebody has a final ace up their sleeve to ensure Saw V ends with a bang.

sound check with Chris Moss

WHO? Oasis + Penny Royal
WHERE? Quattroz, The Rows
WHEN? Saturday, October 25

FOR those of you who've never witnessed an Oasis gig before, it goes something like this . . . Liam swaggers onstage sporting a cravat and ludicrous haircut, can of Carling aloft and Lennon specs in place. Noel grimaces at his wayward sibling while tuning up and the other two saunter around picking fights with their shadows. Then those familiar opening chords begin to chime out and all those hazy recollections of the halcyon days of Cool Britannia flood your heart once again.

But if you want to get even closer to the simian rockers without spending a monkey, Oasis (see what they've done there?) will be descending on Quattroz this Saturday to give a rollicking tribute to everyone's favourite Manc musos. Now, I'm not normally one to get in a lather over covers bands, but when a bunch of likely lads from London go to this much painstaking effort to recreate the bad hair, musical flair and cock-of-the-walk arrogance of their northern heroes, they should either be applauded or taken to the nearest psychiatric ward. Sure, Noel might look like he's put on a bit of weight and Liam probably doesn't buy his kagouls from Primark, but if you squint hard enough you might just believe it's 1996 all over again.

And even if you'd rather hold out for the real thing, the fact that local psych-pop darlings Penny Royal are supporting with their rather splendid brand of soulful, swirling chamber-pop should be enough to coax you down to The Rows this Saturday for a few tinnies and a singalong. Madferri!!

Duo sketch in some major laughs

THAT MITCHELL AND WEBB LOOK: SERIES TWO

(Freemantle Home Entertainment, 15, retail)

The duo behind the hilarious emotional breakdown that is Peep Show serve up a fistful of alternative alter egos in this second season of sketches. David Mitchell and Robert Webb share a great natural chemistry and it spills out through all their creations, some returning from the first series and others making their debut.

The joy of quick-fire comedy sketch shows is that if you don't like the skit your watching, another will be along in a few seconds – the joy of this show is that the high standard of lunatic invention means that's not a consideration.

The pair subvert classic and popular movies with gleeful wit, exposing the populist gobbledegook of The Da Vinci Code in their great spoof trailer for The Numberwang Code ("The world is full of numbers ... but are they good or evil?") and upending the gothic histrionics of Rebecca by telling the entire film from Rebecca's perspective and not that of the second Mrs de Winter.

New to this season are the ingenious and rupture-inducing adventures of Sir Digby Chicken Caesar and his sidekick Ginger, pictured, a pair of deluded alcoholic derelicts who weave blearily through life as gentlemen detectives seeking clues to the former's shadowy nemesis in whatever litter comes to hand while drunkenly slurring their own theme tune (Charles Williams' The Devil's Gallop, of course).

Elsewhere is a farmer frustrated with his horse's lack of communication, a useless robot which can't quite smell the difference between cheese and petrol, a very smooth magical scarecrow who's a knockout at dinner parties, lazy TV drama writers who just wing the research, bickering office mates who variously work as hostage negotiator and adult film writer, and a director of incredibly mundane films such as The Man who Had A Cough But It Was Just A Cough And He's Fine.

A second disc features further silliness with unused sketches, outtakes, interviews and glimpses behind the scenes.

SOLSTICE

(Icon Home Entertainment, 15, retail & rental)

With such a glut of allegedly ironic torture horror and vacuous fright flicks marketed at teenagers, it's a pleasure to see The Blair Witch Project's co-creator Daniel Myrick serve up an unpretentious, old school ghost story.

Favouring characterisation and atmosphere above cheap thrills (although there are a couple of those too), he goes for a slow burn as Megan, mourning her twin's inexplicable suicide six months before, heads into rural Louisiana with her friends to party away the longest day.

The summer solstice is also the time when the border between this world and next is supposed to be thinnest, and the troubled girl shortly comes to believe that the escalating series of unsettling events might be her sister trying to get in touch.

R. Lee Ermy puts in a great turn as a sinister neighbour who's not all he appears to be and the climax packs a satisfying emotional punch.

DEATH NOTE 2: THE LAST NAME

(4Digital Asia, 15, retail)

This twisting, turning and hugely entertaining sequel to the live-action manga adaptation picks up right where the original ended, with student Light (Tatsuya Fujiwara) using the god of death's notebook with which he remotely kills criminals (and anyone else in his way) to manipulate himself into the inner circle of his shadowy archenemy L (Ken'ichi Matsuyama). The pair never quite get the full measure of each other as they manoeuvre for advantage, and proceedings are further complicated when another god of death, the bone-white Rem, falls in love with a teenage TV star and gives her his own death note to go to work.

The cast get the room to give some full-blooded performances and half the fun comes from the ingenious traps the leads set for each other and the even more ingenious way they influence events via the notebooks.

Extras include a making-of feature, production diary, press conference, trailers and a gallery.

Star rating: ★★★★★

YO YO GIRL COP

(4Digital Asia, 15, retail)

Over the top and inherently ridiculous in concept, this manga adaptation succeeds by maintaining a comic book feel throughout and presenting it with a perfectly straight face.

Recruited by the cops to pose as a schoolgirl and infiltrate a lethal website encouraging teens to become suicide bombers, tough tearaway Saki goes to work armed with little more than a very skimpy schoolgirl's uniform and a hi-tech fighting yo-yo.

Pause to question the plot for an instant and you'll find yourself with a lap full of noodles; this is all about looking cool, bursts of '80s hair metal and big fight scenes (so big that director Kenta Fukasaku lets a major scrap run for almost five minutes even though the heroine's got just three to stop a bomb's countdown!) – all of which it delivers in spades.

Star rating: ★★

ASYLUM

(Entertainment In Video, 18, retail & rental)

It's a bit of a puzzle how Snakes On A Plane director David R Ellis sets up the basics for a solid fright fest (college students poking around in a creepy abandoned asylum and finding the malevolent spirit of its deranged former director) only to deliver a film that's more entertaining when there's nothing much happening.

His cast of Scooby-Dooing pretty young things are well drawn, likeable and fairly credible for this sort of thing; it's fun to watch them bickering and hanging out, but every time they encounter the murderous spook he's so preposterous that any tension bleeds away.

Ellis also borrows heavily from A Nightmare On Elm Street 3: Dream Warriors, which doesn't help keep the absurdity at arm's length when every character eventually blurs out some major psychological trauma they suffer which the killer doc then exploits via a pointlessly themed demise.

Hear this ... a look at what's on at The Square, Harlow

BRITISH music supergroup? Well, how about this for a line-up?

Steve White (drums) has played with Paul Weller and The Who (at Live8) and was a founding member of the Style Council, while Damon Minchella (bass), who also joined The Who for Live8, has been a staple of Paul Weller's band and until 2003 was in Ocean Colour Scene.

Together with keyboardist Seamus Beaghen, whose list of clients includes Death In Vegas,

TRIO VALORE

Madness, Babyshambles and Iggy Pop, they form Trio Valore, the headline act at The Square tomorrow (Friday).

Playing Hammond-fuelled funky rocky soul that doesn't let your feet stay still, their debut album has just been released and features the band's own take on some classics (Paint It Black, Hip Hug Her), recent hit Rehab and a host of original compositions.

Support comes from London groovers The Getup! Regulars at the 100 Club, they're also celebrating the release of a new LP. And if that's not enough, Trio Valore will also be doing an aftershow DJ set.

Tickets are £10 from The Square, Tones Music Store or online at www.seetickets.com.

PRESSURE Drop, Harlow's regular reggae, ska, funk and soul club night, is launching live sessions tonight (Thursday). To kick it off, London hip-hop Jazzers J-Treole take the stage with a set tailored to the night, so expect some surprises! Regular Pressure

Drop DJs are joined by UK Obsession 94.3FM DJ Prozak. Doors open at 8pm and admission is £4.

RANDOM Hand from West Yorkshire, currently tearing up the UK scene with their ferocious ska-punk-metal mashup, top the bill on Saturday. Drawing influences from four different but totally compatible individuals, they have been taking on all-comers and playing alongside the likes of Sonic Boom Six, Leftover Crack, Mustard Plug, Agnostic Front, The King Blues and Skindred, building a solid following with their intense and dynamic shows. Support is from local rockers Reederz. Doors open at 8pm.

To round off the weekend, The Square's quiz night returns on Sunday with the now-legendary BlueTac sculpture and name-that-tune rounds. Doors open at 8pm and admission is free.

England player adds zip to training day

FORMER England women's rugby international Helen Clayton was impressed by the quality of the Harlow Ladies team when she visited the Ram Gorse club on Tuesday.

The 88-capped England flanker passed on her valuable experience to the unbeaten team in a training session which focused on tackling technique, defensive patterns and attacking the ruck and maul. More than 25 members took part.

Clayton said: "Some of the hits and driving play were very good indeed, with a bit more hard work this team could be a very difficult side to break down and beat in defence. It was impressive stuff."

After the training session, Clayton held a question and answer session with the Rams squad in the clubhouse.

She spoke about her own game and her rugby career. This included her heartbreak at losing the final of the 2006 Rugby World Cup women's final to New Zealand. She retired from international rugby after this match.

A club spokesman said: "The coaches and players of Harlow Ladies rugby would like to thank Helen for her time and enthusiasm during the session which everyone thoroughly enjoyed and learnt from."

Rams player Tracey Lee played for Essex Ladies when they beat Herts 44-0 at Tabard Rugby Club in the South Eastern Inter Counties semi-final on Sunday. Essex face Middlesex in the final.

Harlow Ladies won 31-0 at Met Police in a friendly on Sunday.

Try scorers were Sarah Stimpson, Sarah McCarthy, Davina McLellen and Kelly Cotterill. Emily Gizzi kicked three conversions.

Ladies hit Basildon for six in goal feast

Basildon II 1, Harlow Ladies 6
(Essex Women's Hockey League, premier division)

HARLOW Ladies made it 10 goals in two games as they followed up last week's 4-0 defeat of Maldon by hitting Basildon for six.

The newly-promoted hosts started well before Harlow, with their passing game, took a grip on the match.

A well-worked move saw Sunny Tidsbury find Sonya Amos in the circle. Her square ball found Anna Ferdinando and she slotted past the Basildon keeper.

Harlow pushed on in the second half and with just seven minutes gone a short corner routine was converted by Sarah Donaghey.

Basildon hit back and Harlow keeper Nicky Newland was called upon.

Liezel Hansson turned defence into attack time after time with her accurate long-range passes.

Carolyn Rushton put the game beyond the home side when she put away a reverse stick sweep at the end of a great run.

Donaghey made it 4-0 before a fine strike from captain Emma Tweddle.

Rushton completed her hat-trick with five minutes remaining after linking well with Amos in the circle.

HARLOW: Newland, Shearman, Hansson, Green, Price, Rushton, Tweddle, Tidsbury, Donaghey, Ferdinando, Amos, Hawes.

Harlow notch up first league win

Harlow 3, Brentwood 2

(East Men's Hockey League, div three south east)

JOE Symonds' men fought back from conceding an early goal to record their first league win.

Harlow fell behind in the first 15 minutes but hit back and created a string of chances before Chris Shearman-Slack broke through the Brentwood defence to ensure the first half ended 1-1.

After the break the visitors regrouped and forced Harlow on the back foot, eventually notching a second goal from a short corner.

Symonds and Luke Krzoska stepped it up in midfield and the team's hard work paid off when the tireless Craig Cholerton intercepted the ball down the left flank to pick out Shearman-Slack who played a good one-two with Robert Chandler before firing past the Brentwood keeper.

Harlow went down to 10 men after Lee Gorringer was sin-binned for a deliberate foul in the D.

With five minutes remaining good work down the left from Cholerton released Krzoska and his pin-point pass found Shearman-Slack. He beat two defenders to find Ben Light who calmly passed it into the net for the winner.

HARLOW: Norris, Jones, Gorringer, Adams, Kirk, Symonds (C), Krzoska, Light, Cholerton, Shearman-Slack, Chandler.

Admiral head top

WHITE Admiral are a point clear at the top of the Harlow & District Premier Darts League.

The side is just ahead of last year's champions Servo Hawks.

CC Whites and new team Stow Snooker remain unbeaten on 17 and 16 points respectively.

Despite losing their first game 8-1, Young Pretenders are third with 16 points.

Fridays results – CC Foxes 3, Stow Snooker 6; Servo Hawks 8, MH Arrows 1; Young Pretenders 7, Golden Swift 2; UG Social 8, FC Wonders 1; Moot House 1, White Admiral 8; CC Colts 3, CC Whites 6.

Ton plus finishes – Roy Leftwich (Stow Snooker 112), Steve Palmer (UG Glass) 103, Barry Rowlett (CC Whites) 101.

180s – Alex Hogg (CC Whites) 2, Damian Green (MH Arrows) 2, Jimmy Conyer (Young Pretenders) 1, Mick French (CC Foxes) 1, Paul Holloway (Servo Hawks) 1, Steve Jefferies (CC Whites) 1, Roy Leftwich (Stow Snooker) 1, Ian Mapley (White Admiral) 1, Mike Sheppard (Moot House) 1, Rob Winslow (Young Pretenders) 1, Alan Webber (Moot House) 1.

Darts' late goal pierces Hawks

AN 89th-minute goal from Ryan Hayes dashed the hopes of a 10-man Harlow Town team as they were knocked out of the FA Trophy on Saturday.

It was 1-1 and a replay approaching when the Hawks found themselves vastly outnumbered at the back as a breakaway resulted in Hayes firing past keeper James Hasell and into the net.

Two minutes later, Jamie Richards was sent off after picking up his second bookable offence when he was cautioned for diving. He had earlier been booked for a foul.

Harlow Town player-boss Ryan Kirby was angered by the dismissal which will mean Richards will miss a game.

Kirby said: "It was a terrible decision. He over-stretched to get his body [to the ball]

Dartford Tn 2, Harlow Tn 1

(FA Trophy, 1st qual rnd)

and did not keep his balance.

"We were tired in the first half after all the back to back games we have had. We got better in the second half and their keeper had to make three or four good saves. Their second goal was well taken."

The Darts went ahead on 14 minutes. A home attack was only half-cleared before the ball fell to skipper Adam Flanagan, whose 25-yard shot gave keeper James Hasell no chance.

Harlow drew level seven minutes later. Leon Lalite was fouled in the box by Tommy Osborne and referee Carl Brook awarded a penalty.

Mark Taylor's spot-kick beat the dive of ex-Bishop's Stortford keeper Andrew Young. Danny Green appeared to be fouled by Dartford's Jamie Coyle in the box, but Brook refused Hawks' bid for a second penalty. Kirby said: "He got between two defenders and had his leg taken down. It was a penalty."

The hosts also had an appeal for a handball in the box against Taylor rejected by the referee. Kirby later admitted the right-back did handle it!

Shortly after the break, a Taylor trademark free-kick produced a great diving save from Young. He also kept out a shot from sub Clark Akers.

Tashan Adeyinka was controversially booked for diving late on.

Dartford then broke away on 89 minutes to secure victory.

HARLOW TOWN: Hasell, Taylor, S. Gliddon (Hollenbach, 22), Chapman, Kear, Kirby, Lalite (Akers 70), Fowler, Richards, Adeyinka (Charles 88), Green. Subs not used: Querry, Hardy (gk).

Bowen scoops Mr Rocket award from fans

LUKE Bowen, right, rounded off a superb season by picking up Rye House Rockets' top award – Mr Rocket – voted for by the team's fans.

The Harlow-born rider, who has been plagued by a series of injuries over the years, has scored consistently for the Hoddesdon team but admitted he was surprised at receiving the accolade.

"I didn't really see that one coming. We've got Tai [Woffinden], who goes out and wins just about every race, and I thought it would be him to be honest.

"I'm totally gobsmacked really, I've been down here since I first started and people have seen me go from scraping the fence to driving off the corners and finishing in front of other riders.

"I've come from nothing, I'm local and that's a bonus, and I've had so much support, and I really appreciate it from everyone.

Speedway

"I'd like to thank everyone at Rye House that has stuck by me over the years and given me the confidence to achieve what I've done. It's been a real breakthrough year for me," he added.

"My average is on the up, and that's the biggest thing for me.

"On the back of that, my aim for this year was getting the points away from home, and I'm really pleased that I've done that too.

"I also had the metal rod removed from my leg during the winter, and that was a big plus for me. It was always in the back of my mind last year in case I had another crash, but this year I haven't had to think about that, but instead focus on building on what I'd already done."

Cougars take bite out of title hopes

HARLOW Hawks player-coach Shab Niaz is looking for a big improvement when his team host Ware Jokers in a National Founders Cup group stage match this Saturday.

Niaz's call comes after poor attack and defence in the first and third quarters were largely responsible for the Hawks' 83-70 defeat at Cambridge Cougars in division one of the Herts County Basketball League on Sunday.

Niaz (20) and Paul Jessop (19) were the main point scorers for Hawks, who could have gone top had they won.

Niaz said: "All credit to Cougars who outplayed and out hustled us and deserved the win.

"I am very disappointed with the way that we played, especially after the win against Luton and this was a great chance for us to go top.

"We did not play as a team and that's our strength. It's a blip that needs to be sorted out quickly as we have a massive National Founders Cup match against Ware Jokers."

It came two days after Hawks beat Luton Fliers 86-78 in the Herts League.

Harlow led by a point (58-57) at the end of the third quarter but a strong last quarter gave them an eight-point win.

Hawks main point scorers were Jessop (26), Gary Maitland (17) and Niaz (14).

The match against Ware tips off at Harlow Sportcentre at 7.20pm this Saturday.

MacDonald chips in with trophy double

MICK MacDonald triumphed in the annual Terry Criddle and H. Mason Memorial Cups.

Sixteen members of the Harlow-based Stort Valley Angling Society travelled to Littleport in Cambridgeshire to battle it out for the trophies.

Sadly, there was little or no flow with clear water and bright conditions making things difficult. A total weight of only 53lbs 7ozs was caught.

MacDonald lifted the trophies with a mixed bag of 8lbs 13ozs.

With exactly 8lbs, Tony Henson took second place and Steve Turnbull landed just under 6lbs for third spot.

Former Stort Valley member Mark Chatters had a red letter day on River Stort at Harlow Mill.

Chatters had a total weight of more than 25lbs in a morning's fishing with a 3lbs 2oz perch, 3lbs 8oz tench and a 6lb bream being the pick of the fish. They were all caught on lobworm tail, fished over chopped worm and casters.

Depleted Rams ease through in Vase

Two excellent tries came from winger Joe Lawler and one was converted by Lee Randall to put Basildon back into contention.

The hosts went down to 14 between the 48th and 58th minute when they had one of their backs sin-binned for a rucking offence and Harlow exploited the numerical advantage.

Neil Fitzpatrick made a good blindside break for a touchdown in the corner and Humphries kicked the conversion before kicking a penalty shortly after.

Basildon cut Harlow's advantage to seven points on 72 minutes with a Randall penalty but the Rams defended their lead well.

HARLOW: Mackie (Woodington 30), Visser, Bowering, Banks, (McFerran 40), James, Humphries, Fitzpatrick, Trearmer (Mahmood 60), Wilkins, Webb, Paine, Eynon, Bowering (Barnard 55), Covington, Roberts.

"Behind them we have ability to create chances and can threaten from open play and set-pieces," said Kirby.

"We did everything we could at Dartford. We could not fault anybody, unlike the games at Boreham Wood or at home to Dartford where you could."

Third gold for Huckle as 2012 beckons

SUCCESS:
James Huckle

JAMES Huckle continued his phenomenal success at the Commonwealth Youth Games by securing a third gold medal in the shooting.

And the Harlow-based 18-year-old, the current senior British men's rifle champion, is now tipped to win a medal at the Olympic Games in London in 2012.

He won his third gold on the sub-continent on Thursday when he triumphed in the 10m air rifle competition.

He established a lead of five points in the preliminary stages and once again held his nerve throughout the final round of 10 shots to finish on a score of 685.7, with Tianchong Wang from Singapore his closest competitor on 678.1.

"I was a bit shaky at the start and at the end but the middle was good. To win one gold was great but to win three is fantastic," he said.

"The Commonwealth Youth Games has been a great experience for me on many levels. Visiting a country I've never been to, in a part of the world I've never been to – that's an experience in itself quite apart from the shooting experience I've gained – and I feel as if I've really grown up.

"This is the biggest event I've ever been involved with and I've learnt that you have to rise to the occasion.

"You always hope that you can do everything well, cope with the pressure and shoot well but it's always a bit of a shock when you achieve your expectations. You know you can do it but when you do it's a great feeling.

"I sat down with my coach before the Games and we set a target of three golds in Pune. It was a realistic target but at the same time I knew I'd have to shoot really well. After I won the first gold medal I knew it was achievable but I've had to work really hard to get there."

Huckle has impressed everyone in Pune with his seemingly unflappable temperament and admits that it is the key to his success. "To get to the highest level you have to have an in-built mechanism to control your nerves and I try to stay calm and relaxed," he explained.

The youngster quit his A-Levels at Harlow College last year to pursue his shooting dream.

"Obviously my target is to win a place at the 2012 Olympics – that would be my dream come true. It doesn't seem realistic at the moment but I'm improving every day so that is my ultimate goal. England support me as much as GB so hopefully I can pick up some medals in the Commonwealth Games in Delhi in 2010 along the way."

The youngster acknowledges that he has benefited from training regularly with the senior shooters in England and the UK.

"Luckily the GB pathway scheme I'm on leading up to 2012 involves the juniors and the seniors so we get to train with the seniors on a regular basis which is really good. They enjoy our company and I definitely enjoy theirs and a lot of their experience has hopefully rubbed off on me."

Festival's a huge success

THE home Under-10 team and an U-9 side both won their age groups when Harlow Rugby Club held a successful minis festival. More than 300 boys and girls aged 6 to 11 took part in Sunday's event. Up to U-10s each try gives a team a point.

Harlow U-10s won a strong group with victories over Ilford (3-2), Wanstead (7-0) and Romford (5-0).

At U-9 level, Harlow Greens won after beating Harlow Reds 5-0 and 2-0 and Wanstead 5-4.

The Rams U-11 side came second, beating Ilford 21-0 and Wanstead 14-7, before losing to winners Romford 12-0.

All children at U-

7 level were playing in their first ever festival.

This age group saw Harlow Reds come second after beating Wanstead 3-2, Harlow Greens 5-4 and losing 5-3 to Ilford.

Harlow Greens finished third after losing 5-2 to Ilford and beating Wanstead 5-3.

Wanstead won the U-12 age group.

James' parents in early hours vigil

PROUD parents Rose and Nigel Huckle were glued to the internet from their home in Harlow as they watched their son's exploits in Pune, India.

The Games were not televised so the Huckles got up in the early hours to watch their son, former Harlow College student James, in action on the web.

Proud dad Nigel told Star Sport: "It's unbelievable. He has wiped the floor with them. We are up at 5am watching the thing on the internet."

Huckle, a member of the United Glass Rifle and Pistol Club in Old Harlow, won Team England's first gold medal of the Games last week when he sealed the men's 50m rifle prone event. He followed this up with golds in the 50m rifle (three positions) and the 10m air rifle event.

"They have looked after them 100 per cent over there," said Huckle snr.

"He says 'I know I am under pressure but I am the British champion and they have got to beat me'. He was not worried about the competition."

"James is practically self-taught. He has this mental strength. He works things out. He absorbs and applies himself.

"He has tremendous ability for a youngster," explained his dad.

He hopes his son will bring home a gold medal at the Olympics in London in four years' time. "Nothing is certain in this life but all the signs are that he will be heading in that direction," he added.

Ridsen go clear at top of table

Tennis coach passes Commonwealth Games test

By ALAN SCOTT

TENNIS coach John Morris is firmly on the road to achieving his dream of captaining the Great Britain Davis Cup side – after experiencing plenty of highs and lows at the Commonwealth Youth Games in India.

Morris (26), of Ram Gorse, Harlow, has been recommended as captain and coach for the England team at the 2010 Commonwealth Games – again in India – after his expert stewardship led the U-18 men's national team to the quarter-finals in both the singles and doubles competitions.

The England team also achieved a bronze medal in the girls doubles at the Games, while illness prevented more medal success.

The former Sawbridgeworth Tennis Club coach returned from Pune in India on Sunday. He was disappointed that England did not progress further, but was pleased after learning that the England Commonwealth Games Federation chief executive Ann Hogbin will write to the English LTA (Lawn Tennis Association) praising his role in the Far East. "She will write a letter to the LTA endorsing me for 2010 in Delhi," beamed Morris.

He hopes to be coach of the senior men's tennis team at the Olympics in London in 2012. "I would love to be involved with the Olympics," he added. "The goal of all young coaches is to represent England. These are all little steps in the right direction."

England had Chris Harrison and Lewis Barnes (both 18) in the men's competition.

Barnes, who trains with Morris at Gosling Park in Welwyn Garden City, was struck down with illness which swept through the England camp.

He was forced to compete in 39 degree heat in the doubles just 40 minutes after losing in the last 16 of the singles. Morris lodged an official complaint with the Commonwealth Games organisers over this.

Despite this he joined up with Harrison and the pair missed out on a semi-final (bronze medal) in the doubles when they lost 6-4, 6-3 to a South African duo who won the silver. Barnes was beaten by the No.1 seed, a Nigerian player, in the last 16 of the singles.

His team-mate Harrison (18) – who went down with tonsillitis and played on with a 100 degree temperature – only narrowly missed out on a place in the last four when he lost 6-3, 5-7, 6-2 to India no.2 seed Yuki Bhambhani in front of a partisan crowd at the state-of-the-art arena.

"He played the match of his life," said Morris. "Yuki is a superstar in India. It was a really tough match and got the highest television audience apart from the opening and closing ceremonies."

Morris was unhappy with the partisan crowd. "They were clapping and cheering the double faults," he bemoaned.

He had mixed emotions over the success of the event. "The facilities were world class but the athletes' village was far from finished. They are closing it now to get it ready for the Commonwealth Games," he said.

"I was a bit down that [the boys] did not get any medals."

The England girls team – Jade Windley and Lisa Whybourn – returned with the bronze medal in the doubles.

'We're first-y for more'

THE incentive for the Hawks is great as they seek to win at Burgess Hill Town in the fourth qualifying round of the FA Cup this Saturday, writes DAVID RIMMER.

It would mean a spot in the first round proper for Harlow Town and the chance of a glamour tie against the likes of Leicester City or Leeds United.

Harlow Town player-boss Ryan Kirby has been involved at this stage of the competition with previous clubs, including Aldershot and Thurrock, but he is still excited.

Many of his players have not played in the fourth qualifying round, let alone the first round proper.

Kirby said: "It's huge for us. It could mean a big draw and being on Match of the Day."

"It's hard not to get carried away. It's a huge occasion and I am hoping that come Saturday 4.45pm we are in the draw for the next round. There is a feel-good factor with a Cup run."

Kirby had Burgess Hill watched when they lost 2-0 at Boreham Wood in the FA Trophy five days ago.

The East Sussex side play a division below Harlow in the Non-League pyramid. "That means nothing. They will play football and like to get the ball down and play," said Kirby.

"One of their forwards, Steve Harper, has got a lot of goals at that level and they have a few players who have played for Bognor."

However, Kirby is confident that his men can deliver and is not troubled by any effects from the FA Trophy defeat at Dartford.

"Jamie Richards is a handful for any opposition and Tashan [Adeyinka] has come in and done well."

Depleted Rams ease through in Senior Vase

THERE was no upset as a re-jigged Rams side won at Basildon in the EDF Energy Senior Vase second round.

Basildon play a division below Harlow RFC in the London and South East League pyramid and the

Basildon 20, Harlow 27 (EDF Senior Vase, 2nd London rnd)

Rams rested four players for Saturday's clash.

Harlow went 3-0 ahead on six minutes from a Paul Humphries penalty, but shortly after Basildon struck back with their lock Lloyd Williams scoring an unconverted try.

The match then went Harlow's way as skipper Paul Eynon crashed over for a try on 10 minutes and seven minutes later Humphries went over after a great solo break.

Humphries kicked both conversions but Harlow found themselves on level terms (17-17) at half-time.
